To Whomever It May Concern,

I have had the opportunity over the last 7 years to work on numerous projects with Daniel Dobron and Andrew Dixon of Pacific West Development. As a court appointed receiver, I am constantly working on projects, ventures, and companies that have struggled to execute on their business plans or be profitable enough to stay open. I had the opportunity to work with Dan and Andrew on a few very problematic projects in which I hired them to assess the projects and issues, interview parties involved with the projects inclusive of vendors, third parties, governing municipalities, banks, and subcontractors. After the initial assessments were completed, they were hired to help create a new business plan for each project, they were responsible for daily management activities for the projects, complete all necessary vertical and underground construction, and eventually help in selling these projects to third parties. Dan and Andrew were instrumental in completing the tasks that were given to them in the assessment, project management, and construction phases of each of these appointments.

I would highly recommend using the services of Pacific West Development as they are a company that demonstrates a high level of integrity, honesty, hard work, and expertise in all aspects of development and construction of both residential and commercial projects.

If you should have any questions for me, please do not hesitate to call me at (951) 232-0806 or email me at mmyers3395@gmail.com.

Sincerely,

Michael D. Myers
